The Organization of the Grand Lodge of Virginia

At a Convention of Delegates from the Lodges below mentioned, met in the city of Williamsburg, on Tuesday, the 6th of May, 1777, in consequence of a petition of the Williamsburg Lodge, recommending that the Worshipful Masters and Wardens of the different Lodges, or their Deputies, should meet in Williamsburg, for the purpose of choosing a Grand Master for the State of Virginia:

Matthew Phripp, Esq., Deputy from the Norfolk Lodge; James Kemp, from the Kilwinning Port Royal Crosse Lodge; Duncan Rose, from the Blandford Lodge; William Waddill and John Rowsay, from the Williamsburg Lodge; and William Simmons and John Crawford, from the Cabin Point Royal Arch Lodge.

Matthew Phripp, Esquire being elected President and James Kemp Clerk.

Brother Waddill laid the following letters before the Convention, which were directed to the Williamsburg Lodge: viz., A letter from the Fredericksburg Lodge, enclosing an order of that Lodge; a letter from the Botetourt Lodge; also a letter from Brother James Taylor, as Master of the Norfolk Lodge, which were severally read and referred to the Williamsburg Lodge for proper answers.

A motion being made and it being the unanimous opinion of this Convention that a Grand Master ought to be chosen to preside over the Craft in this Commonwealth;

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed for drawing up reasons why a Grand Master should be chosen, consisting of Duncan Rose, William Waddill, James Kemp and John Crawford, and that their proceedings be laid before this Convention on Tuesday, the 13th May next, at 6 o'clock P. M.

Resolved, That this Convention be adjourned till Tuesday, the 13th May next.

TUESDAY, 13th May, 1777.

The Convention met agreeably to adjournment.

Brother Phripp being absent upon business, Brother Rose was elected President.

Brother Waddill reported that the Committee, having met, had drawn up their reasons why they thought a Grand Master should be chosen, which he delivered to the Chair; and being read, it was agreed the same should be recorded, and are as follows:

To the Right Worshipful Master, Worshipful Wardens, and Worthy Brethren of the Lodge:

In consequence of a proposition of the Williamsburg Lodge, inviting all the regular Lodges in Virginia to attend at their Lodge on the 5th May, 1777, for the purpose of electing a Grand Master of Freemasons for the said Commonwealth of Virginia, five regular Lodges appeared by deputation, on the 7th instant: viz., Norfolk, Kilwinning Port Royal Crosse, Blandford, Williamsburg, and Cabin Point Royal Arch, and thence by adjournment to the 13th instant when taking the subject of the meeting into consideration, are unanimously of opinion that a Grand Master is requisite in this State, for the following reasons, founded on the principles of necessity, convenience and right: viz.,

First, We find that the Lodges in this State hold their Charters under five distinct and separate authorities: viz., the Grand Masters of England, Scotland, Ireland, Pennsylvania and America (the last at second hand); of course all have an equal right to appoint their Deputies, who can claim no authority over those not holding this principle. Therefore, any difference arising between Lodges holding differently cannot be settled for want of a common tribunal. For the same reason the Craft can never meet in Annual Communication, manifesting that brotherly love and affection, the distinguishing characteristic of Masonry from the beginning. Such divided and sub-divided authority can never be productive to the real good of the Craft.

Secondly, We cannot discover, upon strict enquiry, that Masonry has ever derived any benefit from the foreign appointment of a Grand Master in this country, they being as little known and as little acknowledged.

Thirdly, Being at this time without a Supreme, and so circumstanced as to render it impossible to have recourse to the Grand Lodge beyond the sea should any abuses creep into the Lodges or should any body of the brotherhood be desirous of forming a new Lodge, there is no settled authority to apply to. In this case we are of opinion that a Grand Lodge is a matter of necessity.

Fourthly and Lastly, We find upon record that the Grand Lodges of England, Scotland and Ireland founded their original right of election upon their sole authority, by mutual consent, distinct and separate from all foreign power whatever. We, therefore, conclude that we have, and ought to hold, the same rights and privileges that Masons in all times heretofore have confessedly enjoyed.

We, the Deputies aforesaid, for ourselves and our respective Lodges, humbly leech and desire that you will be pleased to take the foregoing reasons into consideration, and that you will favor us with your attendance, by deputation, in this Lodge, for the purpose of electing a Grand Master for this State, on the 23d June next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the first time, and determine -- we having signified this our desire to all others, ever after at such time and place as the Grand Lodge shall our regular and loving brethren, in like manner as we have done to you, hoping to see you on the day appointed; and we have caused these our proceedings to be signed by our loving Brother Duncan Rose, our President, and attested by our worthy Brother James Kemp, Secretary, this 13th May, A. L. 5777, A. D. 1777.

Resolved, That copies of the above be made out and sent to all the different Lodges in this State.

Resolved, That this Convention be adjourned till the 23d June next ensuing, at 10 o'clock A. M.

(Signed) Duncan Rose, President.

Attest: James Kemp, Secretary.

W. Waddill, G. Secretary.

At a Convention of five Lodges, assembled at the Lodge Room in Williamsburg, on the 23rd June, 1777, pursuant to an adjournment of Deputies of the 13th May last, and agreeably to the letter of invitation to the several regular Lodges of this State --present: Duncan Rose, Past Master, Blandford Lodge; James Kemp, Master's Degree, Kilwinning Port Royal Crosse Lodge; James Mercer, Master, and Benjamin Johnson, Secretary, Fredericksburg Lodge; William Finnie, Master, and William Waddill, P. M., Williamsburg Lodge; William Simmons, Master, and A. Campbell, Master's Degree, Cabin Point Royal Arch Lodge.

James Mercer being elected President, and James Kemp Secretary of this Convention, the several deputations being inspected, and letters of other Lodges, and also several Charters being read and considered.

This Convention are unanimously of opinion that a Grand Master for this State is essential to the prosperity and dignity of Masonry in general; but there not being a deputation from a majority of the Lodges therein, decline choice of a Grand Master for the present -- but, in order to prepare for the appointment of so essential an officer, in the amplest and most constituted mode by which scrupulous Masons may be reconciled to such a measure.

This Convention are unanimously of opinion that the most unexceptionable mode of procuring such an officer in this State agreeably to the Charters constituting the several Lodges therein, will be for the respective Lodges to solicit their respective Grand Masters for an appointment of some one worthy Mason, resident within this State, as Grand Master thereof, by which the several authorities of the different Grand Masters of England, Scotland, and Ireland, from which the several Lodges in this State hold their Charters, will be united in one and the same person; and, in order to continue such an officer in this State, this Convention are of opinion that such Charter Appointment should contain authority to such Grand Master to resign the superiority of his Principal into the hands of the respective Lodges, in order such Lodges, by their Deputies, may form a general Convention of the Craft, to elect a Grand Master and proper officers of a Grand Lodge in time to come.

And, in order to give dispatch to this business, this Convention beg leave to recommend to their constituents, and to the members of all other Lodges in this State, His Excellency General George Washington, as a proper person to fill the office of Grand Master for the same, and to whom the Charter of Appointment aforementioned be made.

But should the Lodges prefer any other person to this office, it is recommended that the respective Lodges do elect some other person, and notify the same to the Williamsburg Lodge, being most convenient, who are to examine such appointment, and declare thereupon, on whom the majority falls, to be nominal Grand Master of this State, for the purpose of accepting a Charter of Resignation as aforeproposed, and notify the same to the respective Lodges in this State, in order to their solicitation aforerecommended.

But in case such appointment is not made by the first day of June next, then this Convention are unanimously of opinion that the several Lodges of this State should proceed to elect such Grand Master, and to that end that the President of this Convention or, in case of his death, the Master of Williamsburg Lodge, for the time being, ought to invite a Convention of the Deputies of such Lodges to meet at such time and place as to him shall seem most convenient.

Ordered, That these proceedings be attested by James Kemp, Secretary, and copies transmitted to the several Lodges in this State who are requested to pay the earliest attention to the same.

Attest: James Kemp, Secretary.
23d June, A. L. 5777, A. D. 1777.

At a Convention of the Craft, agreeably to an advertisement of the Right Worshipful James Mercer held on the 13th day of October, A. L. 5778 -- present: Robert Andrews, Master; James M. Fontaine, S. W.; James Willison, J. W.; Duncan Rose, T.; William Waddill, Secretary; D. Rose, Deputy, Blandford Lodge; Robert Andrews, W. Waddill, James McClurg and Jno. M. Galt, Williamsburg Lodge; James M. Fontaine and Christ'r: Pryor, Botetourt Lodge; James Willison, James Bolsches and John Crawford, Cabin Point R. A. Lodge.

On the question being put,

This Convention are unanimously of opinion that there is a sufficient number of Lodges present to proceed to business.

It is the opinion of this Convention that the power and authority of Cornelius Hartnett, Esq. as Deputy Grand Master of America does not now exist.

It is the opinion of this Convention that it is agreeable to the Constitutions of Masonry that all the regular chartered Lodges within this State should be subject to the Grand Master of said State.

The Right Worshipful Warner Lewis, Past Master of the Botetourt Lodge, being nominated to the office of Grand Master, declined the acceptance thereof -- and then the Right Worshipful John Blair, Past Master of the Williamsburg Lodge, was nominated and unanimously elected -- who was pleased to accept the office.

(Signed) Robert Andrews, M.

W. Waddill, Secretary.

Read, Esq., Deputy Grand Master; Robert Brooke and William Bentley, Esqs., Grand Wardens.

The Seal of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, A.F. &A.M.

The seal of the Grand Lodge of Virginia was first approved in 1786, on the 27th day of October. However, it had its beginning some two years prior to that date, for in the early days of our Masonic history events were slow in movement, and since the seal is of such age, we might also comment that they were well conceived and thought out in advance.

We turn back the pages of history for our readers and call attention to the first communication of the Grand Lodge which met in Richmond on November 4, 1784. Several events of importance transpired on this occasion. John Blair was Grand Master, having been elected on October 13th and installed on October 30, 1778. According to the minutes, it was at this communication that "John Blair, having resigned the chair, a ballot was taken, when it appeared that the Right Worshipful James Mercer was elected to succeed him and was installed accordingly."

Another momentous event was the fixing of a date for the annual communication of the Grand Lodge which was set for the twenty-eighth day of October, "if it shall not fall on a Sunday, and in that case the next day." This established the first order for annual communications, which prior to this time had been held at the will and pleasure of the Grand Master.

The second order of that communication of the Grand Lodge was couched in the language of the minutes of the eighteenth century, "Ordered, That the Most Worshipful do cause to be provided the use of the Grand Lodge, and that he be empowered to draw on the Grand Treasurer for the payment of the same." The seal is unmistakable, but the clothing is subject to some conjecture though it apparently referred only to aprons, collars and probably jewels for the officers of the Grand Lodge. A jewel had been made especially for John Blair and whether this descended to the others who followed in his office is not known. However, there is no exception in the briefly worded order of the Grand Lodge of 1784.

Time passed on and the Annual Communication of 1785 was held when rules governing the Grand Lodge were submitted by a committee composed of James Mercer, Edmund Randolph, John Minson Gait and Leighton Wood, Junior. These rules stated that the Grand Master should be elected annually to continue in office for one year, and until a new appointment take place; provided the Grand Master, his deputy and the other officers may be elected for two years successively, and no longer.

After adopting the eight rules submitted by the Committee, the Grand Lodge again cast its ballots for Grand Master and James Mercer was re-elected. He reappointed Edmund Randolph as Deputy Grand Master, and (the remaining officers were continued in their stations. At this communication no mention is made in the minutes as to either the seal or the clothing which the Grand Master was ordered to procure.

In the minutes of the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge, held on October 27, 1786, in Richmond, Edmund Randolph having been elected and installed Grand Master, the remaining officers elected and installed in accordance with the rules laid down by Grand Lodge. The record next shows that: "The Grand Lodge was pleased to approve the seal procured by the last Grand Past Master." This designates the procurer of the seal as James Mercer, the second

Grand Master of Masons in Virginia. The seal itself is certainly not his work but was evidently done by some skilled artisan, probably a silversmith of that day.

The seal is, of course, a circle around which is found the Latin motto: "Societatis Architectonicae Maxima Virginiae Sigillum." At the bottom are the Roman numerals VDCCLXXVIII—A literal translation being "Seal of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia—1778. Immediately under this inscription is another familiar Latin phrase: "Spes Mea in Deo Est" which, literally translated is "My Trust is in God."

The symbols on this seal are all Masonic. There is the beehive, the level, the plumb and the twenty-four-inch gauge. The two figures are the Saints John, that on the left being the Evangelist and that on the right being the Baptist, his arm resting on the traditional anchor. The Square and Compasses are arranged in the old manner, with the square on the top and immediately under it the Compasses, spread at an angle of ninety degrees with the arms running parallel to the sides of the Square. The circlet of hands joined with the words Europe, Asia, Africa being the symbol of the universality of Masonry.

The three steps, the forty seventh problem of Euclid and the triangle are all familiar symbols so that they do not need an explanation in this article. There are two altars upon the seal, within the circle of universality. The elephant, so far as we know, has no real Masonic signification unless it is to Elephanta, the ancient temple where the Mysteries of India were celebrated. This, according to tradition, is the most ancient temple in the world. It is situated on the Island of Gharipour, in the Gulf of Bombay. It is one hundred, thirty-five feet square and eighteen feet high, supported by four massive pillars.

We cannot say, at this remote date, just what the engraver or the "last Grand Past Master" had in mind when the elephant was engraved on this seal. The years have brought dignity to it and through her seal the Grand Lodge speaks in official voice by its attachment to her official documents.
